A 2023 AUSTRALIAN EVENTS AWARDS

AUSTRALIAN
EVENT AWARDS
NOMINEE 2023

The Shire of Three Springs Silo Projection Project has earned its place among the top five nominees in the "Best Small Regional Event" category at the 2023 Australian Events Awards.

The Silo Projection Project is a remarkable endeavor aimed at showcasing an array of content, ranging from movies and art videos to still images and heartfelt community messages. This project has brought the magic of cinema to the vast canvas of silos, measuring an impressive 56 m x 45 m.

Since its inception, the Silo Projection Project has successfully executed three remarkable events:

- Three Springs Christmas Tree and Silo Movie Night:

During this event, the Silos served as a backdrop for the movie "The Grinch." Collaborative efforts with various stakeholders, including Three Springs School, Three Springs Post Office, Three Springs Police, and Three Springs St John Ambulance volunteers, created a festive atmosphere. The addition of a touching video featuring schoolchildren spreading Christmas and New Year wishes added a warm touch to the evening.

- Live Opera 'Carmen':

In partnership with the North Midlands Project, the Shire streamed the mesmerizing opera 'Carmen' onto the Silo structure, offering a cultural experience like no other.

- Three Springs Silo Projection Grand Opening Night:

This grand event welcomed the wider Western Australian community and featured the highly anticipated movie 'Top Gun Maverick.' It was a night to remember, and the community turned out in full force to celebrate.

The Silo Projection Grand Opening Event has been nominated for the "Best Small Regional Event" category at the esteemed 2023 Australian Events Awards. This recognition serves as a testament to the project's unwavering commitment to delivering exceptional cultural experiences to the Australian community.

Save the Date:

The final results of the Australian Events Awards are set to be announced on September 13, 2023, during the Awards Night.

The Silo Projection Project will continue to illuminate Three Springs, offering a unique platform for artistic expression and community engagement. Stay tuned for updates on this project's extraordinary journey!

Scammers target seniors with fake WA Seniors Card website

- Scammers stealing money and ID from seniors
- WA Seniors Card membership is free of charge and only available via www.seniorcard.wa.gov.au
- Contact ID Care immediately if you gave out your ID or your bank if you paid a fee

Western Australian seniors are being targeted by scammers through a fake WA Seniors Card website requesting money and multiple forms of personal identification.

The fake website seniorsportal.au claims to be “officially approved” and charges WA Seniors Card applicants a fee of $29.

The WA Seniors Card is free of charge and applicants are never requested to pay a fee, or disclose personal identification such as bank or credit card details in exchange for membership. WA Seniors Card does not accept Seniors Card applications made by third party organisations.

Commissioner for Consumer Protection Trish Blake is concerned for seniors that have been targeted by these cyber criminals and handed over their personal identification such as bank details, driver’s licence and passport.

“If you have provided any form of ID to this fake website, make sure to contact ID Care on 1800 595 160 or visit their website www.idcare.org,” Ms Blake said.

“If you have already made a payment to this fake website, contact your financial institution and report that it is a fraudulent transaction.

“There is only one website where a WA Seniors Card is available. Only use www.seniorcard.wa.gov.au to get your card or visit WA Seniors Card in person at Level 2, 140 William Street, Perth 6000.

“Remember, any time you are looking for a WA Government service online, always make sure the website address ends in a ...wa.gov.au to confirm it is legitimate. Be aware that the first listing on an internet search may not be a legitimate website and not the service provider you are searching for.”

To report this scam or receive further advice, contact WA ScamNet by phone 1300 304 054 or email consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au.

For further assistance contact the WA Seniors Card team on 1800 671 233 or email info@seniorcard.wa.gov.au.

Nothing nice about surprise visits

Everyone has the right to privacy in their own homes, and those living in rental properties across Western Australia are certainly no exception.

Claims of private landlords and property managers arriving unannounced for inspections, maintenance and rent collection are fairly common issues reported to Consumer Protection – in the past two years, our team has fielded 177 enquiries and 36 complaints from tenants on this front.

Tenancy laws in WA have strict procedures around when landlords and agents can access the property for reasons such as collecting rent, in the case of an emergency (like for urgent repairs), or for routine inspections. A maximum of four routine inspections only can be carried out per year, including for landlords who live elsewhere and want to visit the property the next time they are in the area.

In between inspections, tenants are entitled to privacy and the quiet enjoyment of their rental home. This means landlords and property agents should not be keeping tabs on them through other means, like using surveillance cameras or driving-by the property.

To arrange a routine inspection, a tenant must be given seven to 14 days' notice and be provided with a notification that sets out the mutually agreed day and time.

If this process is not carried out correctly, tenants are well within their rights to refuse entry, as it is a breach of the tenancy agreement.

Instead, tenants should state clearly that unannounced visits will not be tolerated and insist the proper process be carried out next time. There is a formal notice that tenants can issue to the owner or agent, stating a breach of the tenancy agreement has occurred as a result of the unannounced visit.

On the other hand, tenants should not unreasonably withhold permission for access to the property when proper notice has been provided, as this could put them in breach of their lease and create a risk of eviction.

It's also worth remembering that when inspection day arrives, landlords and agents should only be checking for damage, or issues that could cause damage – tenants do not need to present a property that's in the same condition as when they first moved in.

Tenants who are having problems with surprise inspections are encouraged to lodge a complaint on the Consumer Protection website, email consumer@dmirs.wa.gov.au or call 1300 30 40 54.

Look Up! Three Springs has an incredible night sky!

Stargazing in Three Springs is spectacular! Low levels of light pollution allow you to see thousands of stars above. There is so much to see. Look out for some favourites depending on the time of year.

- The Moon! Is it a full Moon, quarter Moon or a beautiful crescent Moon?
- Different coloured stars.
- The Southern Cross constellation.
- The thick band of stars across the sky, which is the plane of our Milky Way Galaxy. Best seen on a dark and moonless night.
- The Large and Small Magellanic Clouds are two galaxies in the Milky Way neighbourhood. They look like two faint clouds in the southern sky.
- Meteors (or shooting stars) will appear as bright streaks of light that flash briefly across the sky.
- A satellite, like the International Space Station, will look like a star that slowly and steadily moves across the night sky.
- Notice how the stars appear to move across the sky from east to west as Earth spins on its axis.

Stargazing for Beginners!

Tips for stargazing in Three Springs.

New to stargazing? Not sure how to get started? Here are some tips to help you enjoy our magnificent night sky!

1. TURN OUT THE LIGHTS

Light pollution hides the stars from view. The more light pollution there is, the less stars we can see in the night sky. Turn out as many lights as you can so you can see the Milky Way above.

2. GET YOUR NIGHT VISION

After turning out the lights, it takes your eyes about 10-15 minutes to adjust to the darkness. This is called your night vision. As your eyes become adapted to the dark, you'll start to see more and more stars!

3. AVOID WHITE LIGHT

Most streetlights, torches, camera flashes and car headlights produce white light which will reduce your night vision. If you need light, try using a red filtered light which doesn't interfere with your night vision.

4. YOU DON'T NEED A TELESCOPE

Thanks to country WA's low light pollution, there is plenty to see with the naked-eye. If you have a pair of binoculars, try using these to take a closer look at the Milky Way.

5. DOWNLOAD A STARGAZING APP

There are a variety of helpful stargazing apps available. Try to identify and learn about stars, constellations and other objects in the night sky.

6. ARRIVE BEFORE SUNSET

Enjoy a beautiful sunset before an evening of stargazing. Who can spot the first star to appear after sunset?

Where are the best places to go stargazing in Three Springs?
